

Strategic projects

Finance decisions can ripple through your business in unexpected ways. That's why we're here—to help you see the distant shore as well as all the rocks along the way. Call on us when you need critical thinkers who can grasp your business quickly and help you navigate choppy waters. Whether you want RoseRyan to assist your team, or be your team, we are here to help. We'll give you insights and recommendations on finance and business issues ranging from sticky to just plain arcane.

We handle these projects and more:

- Audit support: assessment, audit prep, fieldwork, and financial statement preparation
- Financial process improvement
- Financial statements
- Restatements
- Revenue recognition review: pre-transaction consulting, accounting application, and implementation of new guidance
- SEC Reporting compliance
- SEC comment letters
- Stock-based compensation
- Technical accounting: research, recommendations, and implementation

The special value we bring:

- Be better prepared for audits based on the experience of our team (the majority have CPAs)
- Get even more from our accounting guidance, since we understand the basis on which rules were founded, and have been tracking them steadily from start to finish
- Prevent sticky accounting issues with the advice of our technical accounting group
- Streamline and improve your accounting processes
- Gain insights and efficiencies to help you through a difficult restatement or SEC comment letter (we'd all like to avoid those). Let our experience be your guide.

Count on RoseRyan's savvy pros for help with a wide variety of strategic projects.

We've got your back.
